President's Message

One of the objectives of the Strategic Plan drawn up in February 2002 for the Victorian Women Dentists' Association was to increase the profile of the VWDA in the profession. We are now being approached by various dental organisations for our input, opinion and discussion about women dentists' issues, and a number of organisations are actively seeking to provide us with sponsorship. How rewarding it is to see the aims of the Association being increasingly achieved. These aims have been:

- to provide a network to encourage, support and empower women dentists in the profession of dentistry;
- to promote the advancement and exchange of knowledge;
- to promote leadership and encourage mentoring within the profession;
- to provide a voice for the growing number of women dentists in the profession.

We continue to support and acknowledge the role women play within the dental profession by continuing with our awards, which include:

- The VWDA Leadership Award;
- Outstanding Female Candidate in the ADC Final Clinical Examination;
- Special Needs Dentistry Conference Scholarship ;
- Highest-achieving final-year female Bachelor of Dental Science student.

An area in which we had planned to become actively involved was oral care for people residing in nursing homes. Magically, and not at all too soon, an oral health care initiative was announced by the Federal Government earlier this year which made provision for a staff member of every nursing home in Australia to be trained in oral care. One of our members, Dr Rachel Tham, is actively involved in research and projects related to the need for oral care in aged-care facilities and the VWDA has begun to support her in these endeavours.

The presentations in this year's lecture program reflect the requests and suggestions by members and guests attending our meetings, while at the same time being mindful of the requirements regarding compulsory continuing education.

I would like to invite people who are drawn to this group, or to the content of the lecture program, to come along – and also to encourage colleagues who may not be aware of our activities, by alerting them as to how much can be gained by simply attending, becoming members or, most rewardingly, becoming involved in our wonderful committee.
